Visiting our web pages all identification data (e.g. IP address) and other information (date, time, page watched) are logged from security reason. We don't use Java Applets or Active X Controls.

Our web pages don't use cookies. All the data are used only for statistical purposes and the anonymity is guaranteed.

1.3 Purpose and lawfulness of personal data processing

The purpose of client's personal data processing is to provide trust services and qualified trust services. Processed are identification data, contact clients' data and other information for their identity verification.

Lawfulness of processing personal data of clients applying for PKI certificates is in case of qualified certificates and qualified trust services compliance with a legal obligation to which the controller (I.CA) is subject, in case of nonqualified certificates and other services is it the performance of a contract to which the client and I.CA are parties.

1.4 Failure to provide personal data

If personal data are not provided it is not possible to grant access to the trust services provided by I.CA, it means to issuing the certificate, issuing the time stamps or electronic signatures and seals verification.

1.5 Retention period of personal data

Identification and contact data regarding trust services are in compliance with relevant legislation retained for ten years, the identity verification data for next fifteen years.

1.6 Making personal data available

Personal data contained in issued certificates are made available on the address <http://www.ica.cz/Verejne-certifikaty>. Issued certificates are published excepting those where the subscriber stipulates that certificate will not be published. This alternative is available for all certificate applicants and is described in certification policies (chapter 4.4.2).

Personal data of other services' clients (issuing qualified electronic time stamps and qualified service of verification of qualified electronic signature or seal) are not made available.

Personal data can be transferred for law or regulation purposes, but still in compliance with actual personal data protection legislation.

1.7 Recipients of personal data

Recipients of personal data are only subjects authorized according to relevant legislation, alternate trust services provider when I.CA's operation is terminated, or the supervisory body.

1.8 Transfer of personal data

I.CA does not transfer personal data neither to third countries nor to the international organizations.
